A. S. U. M. SENDS WORD OF GOOD CHEER TO STUDENT FIGHTERS

MAY EXTEND CAMPUS OF STATE UNIVERSITY

Faculty Committee Appointed to Investigate Building Scheme and Enlargement of Grounds—Will Submit Report with Estimate of the Funds Needed to Chancellor.

In response to the request of Chancellor Edward C. Elliott, a special committee of the faculty has begun the preparation of a preliminary working program for the extension and betterment of the campus and buildings of the State University. The report will be submitted to the chancellor October 15.

The faculty members on the committee of physical plant, which has the work in hand is composed of Professors William M. Aber, Chas. E. F. Mollett, Joseph N. Underwood, Morton J. Elrod and James H. Bonner, chairman.

The work of suggesting a comprehensive scheme for the arrangement of the university buildings is in line with the latest thought on campus development in the country. The large colleges are preparing building plans that will guide future development to the end that there may be an architectural unity and general symmetry of arrangement of the structures.

The first comprehensive building scheme was adopted by the University of Virginia, and was the result of the foresight of Thomas Jefferson, after his time little attention was paid to the arrangement of buildings on college grounds except that the traditional oval arrangement was usually adopted. The present generation, noting the rapidity of university development, has seen the need of comprehensive planning.

The committee will pay particular attention to the need for new buildings; the approximate fund which should be available for each building; suggestions as to the location of each new structure and suggestions as to the enlargement of the campus.

Department heads already have been called upon to submit estimates of the respective department needs in the future.

FOREIGN STUDENTS WILL FORM CLUB ON CAMPUS

Plans for the formation of a cosmopolitan club to meet on the University campus every week are being discussed by the students from foreign countries who are attending the University this year. According to temporary plans the club will meet and discuss questions of international interest.

Attending the University this year are students from all parts of the world. China, Cuba, Russia, England, Ireland, Germany, Spain, France and the Philippines are all represented at the state institution this fall.

All students who are interested in the club are invited to meet in the journalism building, Thursday night at 7:30. No restriction will be placed on the membership.

FRESHMAN RULES.

1. Beginning at midnight, Sunday, September 17, the freshman residents of Craig hall and Craig house shall wear their hair down their backs and have it tied with one or more large green bows.
2. No freshman girl shall appear on the campus wearing white foot gear of any description.
3. In the dining room, freshmen shall not use forks except at lunch.
4. All high school class pins or rings must be kept in the dark. If brought to light, they will be confiscated.
5. Freshmen shall have no spreads or parties of any description unless chaperoned by a sophomore.
6. Freshmen shall not use the bath tubs after 9:30 on any night.
7. Freshmen shall not congregate in the halls in groups greater than three.
8. All ukelele thumping is positively prohibited as it annoys the sophomores.

Beware.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS.

CAFETERIA WILL NOT BE RUN THIS SEASON

CRAIG HALL DINING ROOM HANDLES ALL MEALS SERVED ON CAMPUS

Carrying out the plans of Chancellor Edward C. Elliott, the cafeteria in Science Hall will not be operated this year. Those who wish to get luncheon may eat in the dining room of Craig Hall between noon and 1:15. Mrs. Lucy E. Wilson, matron of Craig Hall, expects that more than 200 will eat there each noon.

A steam table will be placed in the dining room very soon, from which all meals will be served. The table is now on its way and it is expected that it will be installed by next week.

All people who are not residents of the dormitories pay 25 cents for the noon meal. It is thought that the new plan will work much better than the cafeteria, as there is a great deal more room in the dining room of Craig Hall and with the doors open for an hour and a quarter it allows sufficient time to serve all who wish to eat their luncheon on the campus.

STEALING IN CALIFORNIA.

Professor Charles Steahling, head of the department of commerce and accounting at the University last year, is now a member of the faculty at the University of California.

NEW VICE-PRESIDENT TO BE ELECTED SOON

SEPTEMBER 27, IS DATE SET FOR NEW ELECTION

CHEER LEADER OFFICE ALSO TO BE FILLED

Petitions Must Be Handed in Not Later Than Next Friday.

Nominations for candidates to fill the offices of vice-president of the Associated Students of the University of Montana, and student cheer leader must be filed with the secretary of the A. S. U. M., Gladys Lewis, or Manager John Patterson, not later than Friday, September 22, according to a decision of the executive committee at a meeting held in the A. S. U. M. office yesterday afternoon. Nominating petitions must bear the names of ten voters of the A. S. U. M. and the name of the proposed candidate.

The election will be held Wednesday, September 27. Since this is an election to fill places left vacant by officers elected last year, only those who were members of the Associated Students last year will be permitted to vote. It was thought by the committee that the freshmen would not be sufficiently familiar with local conditions and the qualifications of the candidates to vote intelligently at this time.

The vice-president must have attended the University at least two years and have at least fifty credits.

Emmett Riordan of the present senior class, was elected to the position of vice president, but resigned last spring to take a position on the Butte Miner. David Roberts, who was elected cheer leader, is now a student at Beloit University.

WOMAN THAT HELPED FOUND LAW SCHOOL DIES IN WASHINGTON

Mrs. Ida W. Dixon, widow of Judge W. W. Dixon, a congressman from this state and for whom the law library at the University was named, died in Washington, D. C., last month. The law library belonging to Judge Dixon, together with books purchased with funds generously donated by Mrs. Dixon and others, makes up the W. W. Dixon Memorial library of over 6,000 volumes in the law school here.

BOOK EXCHANGE OPEN IN Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The Y. M. C. A. book exchange is opened in the store in the little building between University Hall and the Library. Students who wish to dispose of their old books may leave them at the exchange to be sold. A small commission will be charged if the book is sold. Robert Gretencourt, manager of the exchange, said yesterday that quite a number of books had already been exchanged.

SCHEUCH STILL WAITS WORD FROM SWAN

"First Lieutenant Daniel N. Swan, Jr. of the Pacific Coast Artillery Corps was detailed 10 days ago to take charge of the Military Training department of the University," said President Scheuch last night. "I do not know whether he is to take charge of the work here and at Bozeman too or just this one field. I have not heard a word from him since that time."

The government was to furnish the uniforms for the men who signed the petition last spring, asking for military training but President Scheuch says that they cannot supply the suits until July, 1917. All available army supplies are now going to the troops on the border.

"D" FOR COURSE CHANGES AFTER NEXT SATURDAY

Faculty to Hold Students to Strict Accountability for Changes.

Change your registration or for the semester hold your peace, for twelve o'clock Saturday, September 23 is the exact date set as the close of the period in which students may drop courses without receiving "D" in the courses dropped. After this date prayers may be addressed to the faculty committee on the change of registration but word has gone forth that only the most exceptional cases will receive serious consideration.

For the past few years four weeks have been allowed in which students might change courses only by obtaining consent of their advisor. But two weeks were allowed this year in accordance to the following rule: Changes in class enrollment may be made during the first week after registration day with the approval of the advisory officer and by filing a card at the registrar's office. During the second week, such changes may be made only by filing change of enrollment card with the approval of the instructors concerned and the advisory officer. After two weeks, change of enrollment cards must be approved by the committee on admission and registration, in addition to the instructors concerned and the advisory officer. Up to the time the card admitting a change is filed with the registrar, students must attend classes and laboratory sessions of the classes they wish to drop.

Music Students Are Quiet Within New Padded Cells

There's music in the air. Those five words hardly do justice to the sounds that used to float out onto the campus from the third floor of University Hall, where Professor De Loss Smith trained the future Melbas and Carusos. But now the campus is strangely quiet. Reason? A music building, a cosy bungalow with four studios, has been erected—and the walls are padded with sawdust to the inclusion of all sounds. Was it selfishness or consideration that prompted such an act? But one rather questions the success of the padding when one hears Professor Smith remark dubiously, "You know a sieve."

TELEGRAM SENT TO MEMBERS OF MONTANA REGIMENT

Students Are Missed on the Campus But Sacrifice Is Appreciated.

At a meeting of the A. S. U. M. executive body, held Monday afternoon, resolutions were adopted to send the following message to the 28 students of the University of Montana who are with the Second Montana regiment down on the Mexican border.

Montana Students on the Border. "We miss you on the campus, but appreciate the sacrifice which you are making, and are with you in your service to our country. Montana is proud of you."

JUNIOR CLASS TO GIVE FIRST HOP NEXT WEEK

The first big mixer dance, given under the auspices of the junior class will be held Friday, September 29 in the gymnasium. Phil Daniels, manager of the 1917 Sentinel, has appointed a date committee to help bashful freshman. Margaret McGreevey, Doris Prescott and Mortimer Donoghue are on this committee.

"The junior class is determined to make this dance a success and it especially needs the patronage of the freshman class," said Mr. Daniels. The proceeds will be used to finance the year book.

Bids already have been received for printing the Sentinel and the contract will be let just as soon as possible.

The Sentinel notes will be out within the next two weeks. Manager Daniels insist that the Sentinel must be a success financially and he expects to put out a year book that will more than do credit to the University.

Dance tickets will cost one dollar each. Esther Jacobson, Mac Gault, Beth Barrows, Maurice Diethich, Beulah Waltemate, Theodosia Sherburne and Walter Woehner are on the decoration committee.

FRESHMEN GIRLS WEAR FIRST GREEN OF YEAR

Huge bows of emerald green "crepe" and ribbon dazzled the eyes of the campus people yesterday morning, when over three score freshman girls made their debut, wearing the characteristic colors of the frosh class.

At first, it was with shy and blushing glances that the first year coeds met the gaze of passers-by, but as the day progressed, they assumed a calm and debonaire attitude, as if to say "we don't care, it's the insignia of our class, and we're not ashamed of it."

"Girls, you are right, the wearing of the green is not imposed upon the freshman class to be a disgrace, but as a distinction, it is a novel method of getting acquainted with your classmates," said an upper class girl, yesterday.

It was softly rumored yesterday that the "frosh brethren" will also be adorned within a few days with classic green caps.

ATHLETIC RELATIONS RESUMED.

On November 4, the University football team will play the Montana State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at either Bozeman or Butte. This will be the first athletic contest between these two state institutions for more than a year. During the 1915-16 season, the Aggies severed all athletic relations with the State University and college athletics seemed to lose some of their significance—for there are many people in the state, who would rather see a game between the Bruins and the Aggies than to witness a Harvard-Princeton battle on the gridiron. It is indeed a pleasure to think that all differences have been "patched up" and that once again, the students will sing that old song:

"Up with Montana boys, down with the foe,
Good old Grizzlies will triumph today,
And the squeals of the pig will float on the air
From the tummy of the Grizzly Bear."

It has inspired and driven the wearers of the silver, copper and gold to victory in the past as it will do again this year.

WHO WILL YOU ELECT?

Two officers are to be elected by the A. S. U. M. soon and it is high time for the student body to be considering the men who are to fill these places. According to the constitution, the vice president "must have attended the University two years, and must have at least 50 credit hours." The only qualification necessary for a candidate for yell leader is that he must have attended the University for one year.

Chancellor Elliott, speaking at the first assembly last week characterized his remarks as counsel and not advice, but when he told the student body that they should "not boast, but boost; not yapp but yell; not knock, but kick;" surely gave them something to think about even if it was meant only as counsel and not advice.

HONOR STUDENTS.

The Honor Roll for the last semester is printed in another column of this paper. It is not nearly so much an honor to have your name in that list as it is a disgrace not to have it there. Now is the time to commence to work, so that next semester, your name will appear under that heading. It does not require "grinding." All that is necessary, is that you do faithful and consistent work, day by day in all of your classes.

A course of instruction in the Chinese written language is being given at the University of Washington for the first time this year. Instruction of this kind is offered at but two other American institutions.

The first assembly of students and faculty at the University of Nevada took the form of memorial services in honor of the late Captain Boyd, who was killed last summer in the skirmish with Mexican troops at Carrizal and who was commandant at that college for three years. The U. of N. Sagebrush carried a detailed story of the services conducted for Captain Boyd, who died a hero for his country.

The University of Washington started its first work in military training for the year yesterday. And still, there seems to be nothing definite about the drill here.

What became of Lieutenant Daniel N. Swan, Jr., who was detailed by President Wilson and the war department to come to Missoula?

It would be far better for some of the people who are continually telling the Kaimin staff what editorials to write, to put their thoughts in writing. All signed communications submitted will be printed, providing they will not take up too much space.

There are more freshmen registered here than Chancellor Elliott estimated would enter all four institutions in the state.

The same bonds of love seem to exist between the lower classmen this year as are always so noticeable.

HONOR ROLL SHOWS INCREASE OF ONE IN SECOND SEMESTER

EIGHTY-NINE STUDENTS DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES IN SCHOLARSHIP.

The honor roll at the University for the second semester last year shows an increase over the first semester by one. There are 89 among the "high brow" class as given out by the University office. In order to make the honor roll it is necessary that a student make an A or A plus in half of his subjects and no mark below a B plus. The list follows:

Lewina Ainsworth, Nora Alford, Virginia P. Anderson, Grace E. Armstrong, Charles E. M. Bauer, David T. Berg, Bernice I. Berry, Alice M. Boles, Emily L. Busha, Arthur J. Butzerin, Edna R. Chadwick, Pearl E. Clark, Mary F. Cochran, Clarence D. Cook, John T. Crowe, Dorothea C. Davis, J. Maurice Dietrich, Marian A. Duncan, Bertha E. Ellinghouse, Margaret C. Evans, Addison Y. Finkelnburg, Anna H. Foley, James B. Friauf, Merle C. Gallagher, Lillian H. Gassert, Florence G. Gettys, Isabel Gilbert, Gussie D. Gilliland, Helen D. Goodwin, J. Wirt Graham, Thomas L. BUILDINGS RENOVATED AND FURNITURE BOUGHT

Every building on the campus was completely overhauled and cleaned during the past week making preparations for the fall opening. Many rooms in both Craig house and Craig hall, the women's dormitory, were painted and newly papered. New furniture was added in both buildings placing them in the best condition that they have been in for years.

A new wooden ceiling replaces the plastering in the domestic science department of Science hall and other changes have been made in nearly every building on the campus. Students have found employment during the week helping straighten out rooms in the various departments of the University.

DR. SMITH HAS ARTICLE IN NEW YORK MAGAZINE

Dr. Franklin O. Smith of the department of psychology at the University, has a very interesting article in the September issue of the "School and Society," a paper published in New York. Dr. Smith's article is a "discussion of some of the more obvious academic relationships that exist at present between psychology and education in American colleges and universities." The paper was read before the Inland Empire Teachers' association at Spokane, Washington, last April.

SECOND YEAR SPANISH NOT TO BE TAUGHT

"There has been more trouble with conflicts and with people not getting the courses they wanted here this year, than ever before, since I have been here," said a student, who has been at the University for four years, yesterday.

Many are discouraged because they cannot get the courses they want, but the faculty are doing all in their power, it is said, to straighten matters out and arrange courses.

With the announcement that no second year Spanish would be taught, there was gloom cast over several students. There are two young men in the University, who are particularly anxious to take the second year Spanish course, as they intend to go to South America next year. Many others wish to continue with the study, as they need two years' foreign language for a degree, and it is too late to commence another language.

ELLIOTT'S INAUGURAL PRINTED IN EDUCATOR

The first number for the year of The Inter-Mountain Educator, a journal devoted to the educational interests of the Inland Empire of the Northwest, published and edited by Dr. M. J. Elord, of the biology department at the University, is just off the press.

Among the articles contained in this month's issue is the inaugural address of Chancellor Elliott, delivered in Butte, Dillon, Bozeman and Missoula last June and the Trustees' convention at the University summer school, by S. R. Logan, who is in charge of the rural school education at the University's summer session this year. There are many other articles contained in the magazine written by eminent educators.

M BOOKS WILL BE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION SOON

There was something lacking about the registration in the gymnasium Tuesday and Wednesday. Old students would come into the building, register, and inquire in a disappointed tone "where are the hand-books?" Then, of course, the one inquired of, either looked politely ignorant or entered into a lengthy detailed explanation of how the war has affected the prices of printing etc. The books will soon be here, however, according to John Patterson, president of the Y. M. C. A. The non-appearance of the books was due to the delay in the preparation of the copy for the printer, but it is expected that they will be ready for distribution within a couple of weeks.

MANY NEEDY STUDENTS LOOKING FOR WORK

Work for students is exceptionally scarce this year, according to Earl Flower, manager of the Y. M. C. A. employment bureau. Many applications for work of any and all kinds have been coming in ever since college opened but the bureau is unable to supply all of them. Some of the men are looking for odd jobs and some are qualified for clerking, stenography or teaching.

Announcements were read in all the churches in the city last Sunday and advertisements and feature stories have been printed in the local newspapers without much success. Anyone who can find or furnish work may greatly aid a good cause by telephoning to Earl Flower, at 431 Daly, phone 892 black.

George L. Flaherty still has a few of the official forestry pins on hand which were left over from last year.

GIRLS MAKE MERRY THEIR FIRST MIXER

Mock Marriages and "Vodvil" Used to Entertain Frosh.

NOBODY SERIOUSLY HURT

"Charlie Chaplin is going to be married tonight"—this was the news circulating around the campus Saturday which caused consternation in the breasts of the feminine admirers of this moving picture star. Gloom was dispelled, however, after it was learned that it was to be a mock wedding for the entertainment of the freshman girls.

Later than the set hour Saturday evening, in the University gymnasium, a long calliope, composed of eight girls with tall paper pipes over their heads, led the bridal procession. Little Betty Barrows was the ring bearer. Peggy Garvin, Vera Black, Esther Larson, and Anna McKenzie, who were gorgeously dressed, strewed purple flowers for the procession to tread. Patsy O'Flynn tied the knot between Frances Longeway, alias Charlie Chaplin and the blushing bride, Cora Quast. Esther Jacobson was the maid of honor and Theodosia Sherburne was best man. Doris Prescott and Mary Wright, bridesmaids, wore Vogue costumes.

The lamentations of the bride's mother, Hazel Swearingen, were heard throughout the hall. After many hitches in the ceremony, Charlie Chaplin was finally led to the altar.

Other features of the evening were an exhibition of aesthetic dancing by Elma Peterson, some advice directed to the freshman by Hazle Baird, who was dressed effectively for the occasion, and a tender scene enacted between Romeo and Juliet.

Dancing was enjoyed at the conclusion of the program and later ice cream cones were served.

Patsy O'Flynn was in charge of the committee, Esther Jacobson, Anna Foley, Betty Barrows, Cora Quast, and Mae Pope planned the entertainment.

DIETRICH RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JUNIORS

Arthur J. Butzerin of Missoula was elected editor of the 1918 Sentinel, at a meeting held by the members of the junior class on Friday afternoon in University hall. The Sentinel is the annual year book which is published by the junior class at the State University.

At the same meeting, J. Maurice Dietrich of Helena was unanimously re-elected president of the class. Beth Barrows of Billings was elected vice-president, Esther Jacobson of Missoula secretary, and Clarence Cook of Missoula treasurer. MacPherson Gault and John Patterson were chosen as the two members to act as delegates from the junior class to the student council. This organization is composed of upper classmen.

Mr. Butzerin was elected editor of the State University annual because of the resignation of Mortimer J. Donoghue, who was last year chosen editor of the Sentinel.

Mr. Butzerin will announce the staff for the Sentinel some time during this week.

AYER GOES TO SEATTLE.

Professor Leslie J. Ayer, a member of the law school faculty at the University since 1913, has resigned and is now a member of the University of Washington faculty. Professor Ayer taught during the summer at the University of Chicago.

STUDENT MAKES GOOD BY SELLING BOOKS

Pippinburg Returns With Box Filled With Mysterious Mixture That Kaimin Staff Cannot Analyze.

Selling books may seem a poor job to many but not to Martin Pippinburg, business manager of The Kaimin, who has been engaged in that work all summer in the central part of Idaho. He is very much pleased with his work and feels certain that next summer he will be able to do still better in canvassing the farmers.

Then again, Martin might be engaged in some other business by next year for he has a strong box filled with something that none of the staff could analyze off hand. But he has gathered it for some reason, he admitted that, and even went so far as to say that he had a price on 40 acres of land where this strange material could be found.

Pippinburg proved himself a hustler for work last year in gathering ads for The Kaimin and for that reason was named by Clarence Streit to look after the business end of the student paper this year. Ever since his arrival on the campus, last Sunday, he has been hard at work lining up the business of the year.

A FLIVER

May attract your attention, but an untrained man
arouses your sympathy

This is the day of the trained man or woman. There is no better place in the west to obtain expert training than at the University of Montana at Missoula. The remarkable increase in enrollment in the professional and vocational schools at the University of Montana this year is ample evidence of the high standards of scholarship maintained by the different branches of the institution. The thorough instruction given by experts is bringing results which make the continued rapid growth of the University.

No less attention to careful work is given by the college of arts and sciences. The very remarkable success of the graduates of the department of chemistry is evidence of this fact.

With practice fairly started and with "Blitz" Bentz back on the line plentifully supplied with Dakota bronze and bulging muscles, the Grizzlies are attracting many fans to the bleachers on Montana field every evening. Coach Jerry Nissen distributed some new equipment to his warriors last night and newly shod Bruin feet kicked the ball over the green in such a manner as to make the admirers on the bleachers wonder just what brand of footwear the Grizzlies were sporting.

Twenty-eight men were out in uniform last night. The squad was divided into two parts and soon the 28 were hopelessly entangled in a wild riot which in its primitive aspects was supposed to resemble a basket ball game rendered out of doors. A couple of hoops attached to standards were placed on the field in plain sight of the men and it was rumored that the object of the play was to put the ball through the hoops. Nobody knows whether the ball ever approached the hoops or not but it is certain that lot of summer heft mysteriously disappeared somewhere during the battle.

According to confidential information tipped off by Gussie Scherck, football player, one of the end positions on the University football team will be filled by a fellow whose initials are G. S. He's the real thing, according to Gussie.

Jerry Nissen, the football coach of the University, is not the only man who can appreciate the potentialities of Chris Bentz's 245 pounds, according to a story which comes to the campus from Anaconda.

Bentz Works.

Bentz applied for a job in the railroad shops in that city early last summer. The boss took one good look at him, fired two men, and hired the applicant. All went along very well at the shops until the boss found himself confronted with some extra heavy lifting to be done at a short notice, he scratched his head for a moment and rushed to the phone. He called up a foreman and bawled out, "Hey, send down Chris Bentz or a steam hoist and hurry up."

Liz", the tackling dummy was also on the field for practice last night. After a few more nights of such work-outs the team will be put to

DANCE STAGE IN GYM ON SUNDAY NIGHT

"There will be no dancing on the campus Sunday nights," according to Mrs. Lucy E. Wilson, matron of Craig hall, in speaking yesterday about the girls under her charge in the dormitories. As a result of an impromptu dance held in the gymnasium Sunday night, several dorm girls received a severe lecture with the promise of punishment, should they repeat the affair.

More than a dozen men appeared at the dormitory Sunday, and without permission started to dance in the parlors. After being stopped by Mrs. Wilson, together with the girls, they adjourned to the gym, where an hour and a half was enjoyed in dancing. One of the girls softly remarked this morning "never again for me," after spending a night thinking about the advice, she received last night.

DR. CRAIGHEAD'S PICTURE IS NOW ON LIBRARY WALL

A portrait of former President Ed Boone Craighead has been hung in the library of the University. The portrait was the parting gift of class of 1916 and has a place with other University executives on the library walls.

training for the wrestling matches in the class fights the captain will give him all the exercise he wants.

This is no free ad for Jones, but as we tried to take a fall out of him once ourselves, and we know whereof we speak.

It looks from this angle that Adams will have little competition for the quarterback's position. Adams looks good from the sidelines.

Gussie Scherck is not the name applied to any of the Missoula stage-hand favorites. It is the name of a football player at the University.

We believe that we mentioned the fact that Gussie is out for football last week, but we thought that some one might not have read that line.

If the attendance at the football practices, both on the bleachers and on the field, continues to grow throughout the season it will be highly profitable to charge admittance.

The Aggies are broken hearted. The patriotism which prompted some of their star gridiron men to join the national guard last year, is responsible for some appalling vacancies in the rural squad this fall.

Paul Smith, a pre-legal sophomore, is ill at his home in Helena. He is expected to return shortly.
